Hi Alexander, hi Fares,

Thanks for the great conversation today! It's very cool to see how you tackle solutions from a user-centered perspective and only build what is necessary.

I didn't find a THD lawyer that you could check in with if needed, but indeed the Career Service would be my best guess as well: <https://www.th-deg.de/en/dit/contact/career-service>

Also, if you want to explore the startup path in more depth, you can reach out to Mohammad mohammad.abu-rezeg@th-deg.de as he's an international who founded <https://gruendercafe.com/>. He's employed with THD by now but has helped many international students with their first steps into self-employment.

Lastly, please feel very welcome to contact us via gruendungsfoerderung@th-deg.de again anytime in case you actually want to start your own business.

Best wishes,
Franziska

Dear Gründungsförderung Team,

Mr. Weinzierl kindly asked us to contact you regarding our case and the possible onboarding into the startup support program.

We recently had a follow-up meeting about our project "Kaffeelisten" with Prof. Dr. Veronika Fetzer and Mr. Thomas Keller.

Before moving forward, we would like to clarify our legal and administrative options. Since we both hold student residence permits, we understand that freelance or self-employed work may require additional permission from the Ausländerbehörde. Therefore, we would be grateful for your guidance on the appropriate way to proceed if ITC1 would like to legally compensate us for our current and any further work on this project.

Thank you very much in advance for your help.

Best regards,
Alexander Rudaev
